It is often remarked by those few select intellects that the fundamental reason for attending school (that is, learning) is often forgotten in the confusion of today's activities, plays, assemblies, and evening entertainment. Perhaps. But who knows for sure? In a unique way, they may be even more educational than school, for they develop a student's abilities to put to use his ingenuity and to bring out his natural talents which are too often suppressed in the classroom. It is a convenient way to put to practical and everyday use the things a student learns in school. For that reason the Mogul includes a Student Life section that deals with common occurrences throughout the year. Perhaps it should be named instead the "Look-What-We've-Done-In-Our-Spare-Time" section.

It is hard to decide which pictures are more revealing: those of the play itself or of the set crews and makeup crews doing their job; those of the crowning itself of the Homecoming Queen or of the long "extra" hours many students put in preparing the festivities and building the floats; those of the entire band performing on a Sunday afternoon or of the many hours spent practicing tediously on scales ad tone quality; those of a student's fine sculpture or of the rejects tossed aside; those of the gymnast's graceful victory or of her numerous agonies procured in practice.

Pictures are meant to tell a story and, therefore, it is hoped that these pictures show the readers some of the manufacturing as well as the finished product.

Homecoming 1972 was a big affair. Sophomores and Juniors chose their representatives to the court while the Seniors chose six girls as candidates for Homecoming Queen. Working hard, these girls — Holly, Therese, Rhondi, Kim, Connie, and Tracy — put together their talent demonstrations in two short weeks and presented them in one of the best pageants ever. In addition, although each class started on its float weeks before October 6, students were scurrying around yet Thursday and Friday nights in a last-minute effort to complete the floats before the game. The Junior High carried off the honors with the theme of Jack and the Beanstalk. The varsity lost the game to Whitehall that cold night, yet all was not lost, for at half-time the spectators saw Kim Jones crowned Homecoming Queen 1972.

Fremont sports 1973, though a bit disappointing at times, gave moments of thrills and excitement to loyal fans. Though discouraged by heartbreaking or sometimes crushing losses, the Packers always rebounded and came into each new contest with determination and optimism. With the unsuccessful seasons of the traditionally popular sports, football and basketball, other sports came to the fore and provided the sports highlights of '73. Furthermore, this was the year that Women's Lib changed the Fremont sports' scene. For the first time, girls in the red and white of Fremont High competed interscholastically in a range of sports — basketball, tennis, gymnastics, and track.

Though the fall produced no spectacular team records in the win column, several individuals starred and earned recognition for Fremont. Despite the winless varsity football season, Fremont was honored in having Denny Rapson named to the all-conference team as defensive halfback. The cross country team, in spite of a slow start, ended the season with a string of four wins and a sixth in regional competition. Fran Lanciaux was the team's premier runner, taking fourth of fifty competitors in the conference meet. The golf team, paced by the consistent performance of Larry Derks, took fourth in Seaway League standings. The tennis team was fortunate to have several members with experience and skill.

With the beginning of the winter sports schedule, fans could relish the success of Fremont's wrestling team. The wrestlers finished second in the conference and tenth in state rank and were encouraged throughout the season by the newly initiated Mat Maids organization. Mike VanHemert, Guy Redinger, and Joe Stariha advanced through district and regional competition to represent Fremont in the state wrestling finals. The varsity basketball team, though low in league standings, were led by ace Randy Gillett, who was high throughout the season in the Seaway League's high-scoring race. The Fremont swimming team was faced with a year of rebuilding but also produced stars in Jeff Cooper and promising sophomores Ken Kwast and Craig Meyers. Jeff broke many school records — several his own — in the 200- and 400-yard freestyle. The gymnastics team, though winless, improved considerably in both form and confidence throughout the season and gained valuable experience. The girls competed in vaulting, uneven parallel bars, balance beam, floor exercise, tumbling, and trampoline.

In spring sports, chances for success were good. Last year's baseball team compiled a creditable record, and many of last year's players returned. The tennis team was another highlight in the sports' roster. Last year's team compiled an outstanding record of 13-1-1, tied rival Ludington for first in conference competition, and took second in the regionals. The track team of '72 was third in the league; at the conference meet, the relay team took first in the 440 and 880 relays, and John Hoyt captured the pole vault title. Returning lettermen included Pete Maassen, last year's high-point man on the team. Rounding out the spring sports agenda is the girls' track team, another new team. The Aquaettes put on a swim show with the theme "You've come a long way, baby."

Despite a tendency toward student apathy, the cheerleaders kept their enthusiasm and tried to infect the student body with pep as well. Captained by Kim Jones, varsity, and Holly Dougan, junior varsity, the squads made pep signs, held the annual Unity Week activities, and organized the pep assemblies at noon. The Pom Pom girls were led by Connie Obits, captain, and Denise MacDonald, co-captain.

School at Fremont High is much more than seven fifty-minute periods. Some of the most worthwhile experiences of high school are those gained in the extracurricular activities of clubs and organizations. Perhaps the memories held the longest and deemed most rewarding are those during which we cooperated as a group working with a single purpose toward a common goal. These organizations provide not only times of fun and laughter but also opportunities for new learning experiences. The value of each individual club is found not only in its accomplishments but in its efforts toward reaching that result: in the hours of band and orchestra practice spent trying to match tone and rhythm, in the Student Council members' unconscious acquisition of knowledge of governing principles, in the German Club's annual candy cane sale, in the insight that National Honor Society members gain in tutoring elementary school children, in the practical nursing training learned by Health Careers Club members in working at Fremont's medical care facilities. For these organizations help us build, through cooperation and companionship, not only our characters but the foundations upon which we may build our futures.

AN OUTSTRETCHED HAND

Each of us was made by God
and some of us grew tall.
Others stood out in the wind
their branches bent and fell.
Those of us who walk in light must help the ones in darkness up.
For that's what life is all about and love is all there is to life.

Each of us was made by God
beautiful in His mind's eye.
those of us that turned out sound should look across our shoulders once and help the weak ones to their feet.

It only takes an outstretched hand.

You just call out my name and you know wherever I am
I'll come running to see you again.
Winter, spring, summer, or fall, all you've got to do is call
And I'll be there. You've got a friend.

For the Senior class of 1973 this was a year of choices. Besides choosing Snow White and the Seven Dwarfs as the theme for their Homecoming float, they chose Kim Jones as their Homecoming Queen. The Seniors also did a fine production of the play George Washington Slept Here under the direction of Mr. Kidder.

Because this was the first year eighteen-year-olds were able to vote in the National elections, many Seniors made their choice between two Presidential candidates. All Senior students were able to vote on their cap and gown colors, and they chose navy and light blue. Also the girls chose to carry carnations during the graduation ceremonies. All things considered, the Seniors of 1973 made some very good choices.

Lori Wallis, President; Sharon Oosting, Vice-President; Judy Akershoek, Secretary; and Bev Wissner, Treasurer, led the class of '74 this year. They chose Karen Purcey as their Homecoming Representative and created the float "Fairy-Tale Fantasies." The Junior Class held the prom at the Country Club this year and undertook such money-making projects as their Mid-Winter Festival booth. It was altogether a successful year.

This was a year of experiences for the Sophomores. They experienced selecting from a wide variety of classes, having classes which are two minutes longer than in the Junior High, and marching up stairs on which a traffic jam always seems to be coming from the other direction. They participated in a mock election and furthered their knowledge about themselves by taking aptitude tests at the Vocational Center. All of these experiences will never be forgotten.

This year was the time of an exciting first for this year's eighth-graders. They were allowed to select some of their own subjects which were incorporated not only to spice-up their usual schedule, but because all were thought to be an important part of a general education and should not be left out. The Junior High expanded their curriculum for the eighth-graders by adding nine new elective courses. All the new courses run for just nine weeks. Included among these are Spanish and German, Art, Boys Homemaking, Girls Shop, Crafts, Speech and Debate, Vocal Music, and Drama.

CLASS OFFICERS — Front: T. Wright, Sec.; Back: A. Paris, Treas., J. Price, V. Pres.; P. Osborn, Pres.

Seventh-graders are in a stage of growing up more than any other grade. They leave the world of the elementary school entering the Junior High, where they have to rush about trying to find their classes. In addition, seventh-graders find themselves thought of as a whole class rather than many small classes as they were in the sixth grade. They are at the bottom of the ladder now, when in the sixth grade they were on the top rung. Seventh-graders spend this year getting used to the Junior High so that next year as eighth-graders they can give a hand to the new seventh-graders.

The Class of '73 may produce a top bank officer or the friendliest teller in Fremont!!

WE CERTAINLY HOPE SO.

Fremont needs bright young people in business and industry. New faces. New thoughts. New energy.

Indeed, the world cries out for your freshness, your vitality.

Perhaps in your number is a visionary who will lead us to world peace. Or a scientist who will help move us out of the environmental crisis. Or a special genius who will show us at last how to live in harmony.

Perhaps a young bank officer or teller who will take their place in the community and help to make it a better place in which to live.

ON THE OCCASION OF YOUR GRADUATION, we offer more than congratulations.

We say WELCOME, to a world that needs you.

The Old State Bank of Fremont

Our Wide-Awake Wide-Open Door Policy

More than a word. More than our smiles. Our time. The wide-awake bank has time for you and the eagerness to serve you best.

All banks are big on money—so are we. But we're just as big on service, in quantity and in quality. If our tellers can't answer a question, feel free to consult any of our officers—even if, to settle a friendly argument, you need to know whose picture is on the thousand-dollar bill. Of course, our easy-going officers are ready with more important answers and financial counsel, to help you make big decisions or plan for your future. And we won't rush you, either. We have the time to let you take your time. We know how much it matters.

So whether you bank with us or not, we welcome your questions. Our doors are always open. The wide-open, wide-awake bank always makes you feel you've come to the right place. And you have!

*The wide-awake bank makes it all so easy.*SM
